

Senior JavaScript Front-end Engineer

FIXR is a VC-backed digital events marketplace for university students. Providing digital event management solutions across a broad range of event types. Our platform covers the whole event lifecycle from listing & marketing through to entry management.

Headquartered in London, we are operational across the UK and expanding fast.

We are passionate in leveraging the latest and best technologies to solve the challenges we solve to ultimately provide the most functional and frictionless service to our customers.

We are looking for a Senior Javascript engineer to join our team to help grow our existing platform and tackle new projects.

Details

You will be expected to contribute in the following ways:

- Write code and build features for our core platforms.
- Participate in code reviews to help the whole team improve their knowledge and output quality.
- Help with feature planning and exploration by providing technical input to the Product/Design teams.
- Write sustainable code by leveraging testing and our automated CI/CD systems.
- Be responsible for getting your new features out to the production platform.

This is our Frontend stack, experience in as many as possible of these technologies is desirable:

- Frontend Core: NodeJS, Webpack, Babel, JavaScript ES6, TypeScript, React (Isomorphic rendering), Redux, Jest
- Additional technologies: GatsbyJS, Expo, Cypress

The rest of our stack is made up of:

- Backend: Python, Django, DRF, Postgres, Celery, Redis, Elasticsearch, RabbitMQ
- Infrastructure: Docker, Kubernetes, Helm, Linux, GCP, AWS, CircleCI, Datadog
- iOS (Swift) and Android (Java/Kotlin)

Other Skills:

- Production deployment experience working with cloud platforms.
- Strong software engineering fundamentals: design, testing, version control, code reviews
- Understanding of e-commerce systems, analytics and SaaS business practices.

What we offer

- Competitive salary
- Extra holiday days for every year you've worked here
- Office shutdown between Christmas and New Year!
- Fun, young, dynamic team - free beer/cider every day from 4pm!
- Regular office social events
- Excessive amounts of snacks
- Pension scheme
- Eligibility for share options